

Peter Woodbury, MSW

Peter's parents were Catholics, psychiatrists and interested in metaphysics. However, his predominant metaphysical influence came from his great grandmother, Doña Chere, a well-respected medium in Puerto Rico. Doña Chere, who lived to 107, was the inspiration for Peter's lifelong interest in the unseen dimensions. Peter's family loved to camp, making two trips to Africa before he was 7 - e.g. The family traveled to Mali by Land Rover, hiked to visit the Dogon tribe, and participated in an initiation ceremony that only occurs every 60 years.

Peter graduated from Harvard University, majoring in psychology. He received his Master's in Social Work from Boston University. Following a successful career in the Boston area as a psychotherapist, he later was on the faculty of Boston University and eventually, Atlantic University.

Peter continues his love of travel and leads spiritually-based tours around the world. He practices "Finding Balance" throughout his life.
